01 Introduction

In 2019, Commission President Ursula von der Leyen unveiled the European Child Guarantee to ensure that all at-risk children in Europe access fundamental rights like healthcare and education. By June 14, 2021, the Council adopted it.

The Guarantee aims to provide key services like free early childhood education, education with meals, healthcare, nutrition, and housing to children in need, fostering equal opportunities. Member States have appointed coordinators and are crafting plans until 2030.

The Spanish Presidency organises a meeting of EU National Child Guarantee Coordinators in Valencia on November 3rd. The meeting aims to promote the European Child Guarantee initiative and reinforce European commitments and public policies for vulnerable children, including those under protection systems or who have experienced violence or neglect, while maintaining continuity with previous presidencies and Spain's commitment to impoverished children.

Plataforma de Infancia, in collaboration with Eurochild, organizes a parallel event to the Meeting of Directors and Coordinators of the European Child Guarantee. In addition, we will organise a welcome dinner the day before and a cultural activity after the side event.

02 Information Kit

We extend a warm welcome to this Information Kit designed to facilitate your participation in the upcoming side event in Valencia. This document has been crafted to provide you with essential details pertaining to the event's logistics, locations, schedule, and recommendations for optimizing your stay in Valencia.

2.1 European Presidency Child Guarantee Coordinators Meeting Side Event

European Presidency Child Guarantee Coordinators Meeting

The meeting has two objectives:

- To raise visibility for the European Child Guarantee initiative, continuing the momentum generated by previous presidencies and aligning with Spain's commitment to children in poverty.
- To reinforce the European commitment and public policies of member states aimed at a particularly vulnerable group of children: those who have been under the care of protective systems due to experiencing violence or neglect.

European Presidency Child Guarantee Coordinators Meeting Side Event

This is a meeting for children's organizations in which, in addition to attending some sessions of the official meeting, we will organize parallel sessions to discuss topics such as the Child Guarantee, the situation of early childhood or the rights of children in the context of the European Parliament elections in 2024.

2.2 Side Event Organisers

Plataforma de Infancia

Plataforma de Infancia is an alliance of non-profit, plural, solidary, democratic and politically and religiously independent entities that work to achieve full compliance with the rights of children and adolescents.

It integrates the efforts of social organizations and all the agents involved in the welfare of children.

Plataforma de Infancia was born in 1997 with the mission to unite the efforts of statewide organizations working in the field of children and to create a space for coordination that defends, promotes and protects the rights of children and adolescents in Spain in accordance with the Convention on the Rights of the Child.

Its working framework is the Convention on the Rights of the Child, approved by the General Assembly of the United Nations on November 20, 1989, with the aim of protecting the rights of all human beings under eighteen years of age, considering that children and adolescents should not be treated as objects of charity, but as subjects of law with specific needs and interests.

Eurochild

Eurochild is a network of organisations and individuals working with and for children in Europe.

It has almost 200 members in 41 countries. It is striving for a society where all children and young people grow up happy, healthy, confident and respected as individuals in their own right. It aims to bring about positive changes in the lives of children, in particular those affected by poverty and disadvantage.

Eurochild reach its goal by influencing policies, building civil society capacity, facilitating mutual learning and exchanging practice and research. It is committed to child participation and to actively involve children in different aspects of our work.

03 Introduction to Valencia

Nestled along the picturesque shores of the Mediterranean Sea, Valencia stands as a vibrant gem on Spain's eastern coast. This city, the capital of the Valencia region, embodies a captivating fusion of tradition and modernity, offering a rich tapestry of history, culture, languages, gastronomy, and weather.

Valencia's location has long played a pivotal role in its development. Situated on the eastern coast of the Iberian Peninsula, it boasts a landscape of rolling hills, lush orange groves, and pristine beaches. Its strategic position has made it a historical crossroads, inviting a multitude of influences over the centuries.

The city's history stretches back over two millennia, with its roots firmly anchored in the annals of time. Founded by the Romans in 138 BC, Valencia later became a significant Moorish stronghold during the Middle Ages. As you wander through its historical center, you'll encounter architectural treasures like the breathtaking Valencia Cathedral and the UNESCO-listed Silk Exchange, bearing testament to its rich past.

Valencia's culture reflects a unique distinctive Valencian identity. While Spanish serves as the official language, Valencian, a Catalan dialect, also holds prominence, infusing the region's cultural tapestry. Festivals like Las Fallas, celebrated with extravagant displays of art and pyrotechnics, provide a vivid glimpse into the city's vibrant spirit.

When it comes to gastronomy, Valencia is a true culinary delight. The city is renowned as the birthplace of paella, that irresistible rice dish adorned with an array of ingredients, from succulent seafood to tender chicken and an assortment of vegetables. The bustling Mercado Central showcases an array of fresh produce, seafood, and traditional Spanish delicacies, inviting you to savor the flavors of the region.

Valencia's climate is another of its charms. Enjoying a Mediterranean climate, the city welcomes mild, wet winters and hot, dry summers. With over 300 days of sunshine annually, Valencia beckons beachgoers and outdoor enthusiasts throughout the year. Its pleasant weather provides an ideal backdrop for leisurely strolls through historic streets and leisurely al fresco dining.

3.1 How to arrive in Valencia

Valencia can be reached by land, sea and air. The city is connected to the main Spanish and European cities. Valencia Airport, located just 8 kilometers from Valencia, offers regular daily flights to the most important national and international destinations. The city also has two train stations, the North station, where the suburban network operates mainly and the Joaquín Sorolla high-speed station from which the AVE trains depart that link with Madrid, Cuenca, Seville or Córdoba. The long-distance Alvia and Euromed trains that link Valencia with Barcelona and other cities also depart from the Joaquín Sorolla station.

From Valencia Airport

València airport is located between the municipalities of Manises and Quart de Poblet, just 8 kilometers from the capital, and connected by all types of public transport (bus and metro). On the one hand there is the Main Terminal, which in turn consists of T1 and T2, where domestic flights operate. Regional flights take off from the Regional Aviation Terminal. The main operators at Valencia airport are Ryanair, Air Nostrum and Air Europa, although Iberia, Air France, British Airways, EasyJet, Swiss International, Turkish Airlines and Lufthansa, among others, also operate on its runways.
