14h00	Five Interactive Parallel Workshops <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Sustaining Child Protection and Care Reform Through Policy and Practice Led by Irina Papancheva, Altin Hazizaj, Anouk Moser and Rima Pušić Hope and Homes for Children, CRCA/ECPAT Albania, LUMOS and CCF Moldova This workshop explores how EU policy and funding frameworks and the accession process can drive child protection and care reform, with a focus on promoting family and community-based care through tools like the European Child Guarantee and Enlargement Reports. It also strengthens participants' advocacy skills by examining how global and EU instruments can be used strategically to influence reforms, drawing on country examples and personal experience, and identifying practical next steps. Our digital world: how the online space is perceived from a child's lens Led by the Eurochild Children's Council This is an interactive, child-led workshop hosted by the Eurochild Children's Council (ECC). Using quizzes and scenario-based games to engage the audience, the session introduces ECC members' lived experiences of the digital world. It highlights what they see as most important online - from AI and digital addiction to mental health - and translates these insights into concrete recommendations for better laws to protect children, followed by an open discussion. Recovering Childhood: The Challenges Ukrainian Adolescents Face Today and Solutions That Support Their Emotional and Psychological Wellbeing Led by Artem Mazur and Yaryna Volosko Kids of Ukraine Charitable Foundation Ukraine In this workshop, we invite participants into an open dialogue - sharing experiences, exchanging perspectives, and finding common ground. Together, we'll explore the key challenges Ukrainian adolescents face today and the approaches that truly support their emotional and psychological recovery. Through a short quiz, a brief talk, and small group discussions, we'll leave with practical insights and simple next steps for working together more effectively. Stolen Safety: Empowering Parents and Professionals to Protect Children Online Led by Divna Prusac and Aleksandar Karov Center for Missing and Abused Children (CMAC) Serbia This workshop examines why child protection systems often fail to adequately protect children in digital environments and how these systems can be strengthened through practical, system-level solutions. Building on real-life patterns and field experience, participants will analyse a structured case involving online manipulation and AI-enabled risks, identifying critical gaps across sectors including families, education, social services, law enforcement, and digital platforms. Legal intervention to ensure access to justice for children and enforcing their rights Led by Louise King and Chris Callender Children's Rights Alliance and Just for Kids Law England, the United Kingdom

	This workshop examines how systemic failures in child protection persist despite existing legal frameworks, drawing on real litigation and policy experience to highlight gaps in the protection of children’s rights. It explores how strategic litigation (through judicial review, compensation claims, and engagement with domestic and European courts) can be used to enforce children’s rights and drive systemic reform.
15h30	Coffee break and networking time
16h30	Five Interactive Parallel Workshops <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Access to Justice and Effective Remedy for Social Protection Led by Prof Ann Skelton; Laura Marchetti Leiden University The Netherlands This workshop explores how access to justice and effective remedies are essential to making social protection systems truly rights-based, accountable, and responsive to children’s lived realities, with a focus on the justiciability of socio-economic rights. Bringing together leading experts and research, it examines legal frameworks, accountability mechanisms, and practical pathways to strengthen children’s rights, while engaging participants in identifying how these approaches can drive reform across European contexts. The local programme builder for local costed planning of (child)care reform: a digital enabler of the Ukraine Better Care Reform Led by Francesca Stuer and Professor Bohdan Malyniak, Maestral International and the Western Ukrainian National University Belgium, Ukraine This workshop presents the Local Programme Builder, a digital tool supporting Ukraine’s de-centralised care reform by helping local authorities align planning with the national strategy for ensuring children grow up in nurturing family environments. It shares evidence on costing and planning models in child care reform, and engages participants in exchanging experiences and identifying effective approaches to improving the quality and coherence of de-centralised implementation. Future Voices: Now it’s our turn! Turning Children’s Voices into Policy Action Led by Lena Budach and Finn Reinhart Bertelsmann Stiftung Germany This workshop explores how children and young people’s needs and perspectives can be meaningfully integrated into decision-making processes, drawing on insights from the peer-to-peer “Future Voices: Now It’s Our Turn!” conference model co-designed by Bertelsmann Stiftung and its Young Experts Team. It demonstrates how inclusive, peer-led participation formats can empower children and provides practical methods, facilitation tools, and insights for translating children’s voices into local policy and practice.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> A better alternative to banning social media for children under 16 – older children teaching younger children how to behave safely and responsibly when they are online Led by Aurel Graur The ICAM Network Italy, Romania, Spain, United Kingdom This workshop presents a peer-led alternative to banning social media for children under 16, based on the ICAM partnership’s peer-led, risk assessed, trauma-informed, and culturally responsive education programme. With built-in use of assistive technologies to reduce language barriers and improve learning outcomes, this programme shows how older students, trained and supported by staff, deliver workshops to build younger children’s social and emotional skills for safe, critical, and balanced online engagement, while addressing risks such as manipulation, bias, and over-dependence on digital technologies. It has been supported by the Daphne-CHILD programme and the ICAM partnership is seeking other Eurochild members to form an alliance to implement the ICAMcsr programme in all European countries. Strengthening Families, Preventing Poverty: Advancing Integrated Child Protection Systems in Europe Led by Zuzana Konradova; Evgenia Toneva; George Bogdanov; Iskra Stoykova, Eurochild; Know-How Centre Bulgaria, National Network for Children, Trust for Social Achievement Bulgaria This interactive workshop will bring together European and national perspectives from Bulgarian members to explore how family strengthening and prevention can be placed at the heart of child and social protection systems. Drawing on practical experience from family and community-based programmes, as well as research and policy expertise, the session will highlight how early intervention and integrated support services can help prevent child poverty, reduce family separation, and improve long-term outcomes for children and families.

11h30	Five Interactive Parallel Workshops <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • GUIDE: Stories of Guardianships Led by Mariia Pavlova and Stefanos Alevizos Imago Foundation and IASIS Poland, Greece This interactive workshop presents the GUIDE project and its findings on guardianship systems across 5 countries. Through videos and a participatory listening circle, participants will engage with real-life stories and reflect on the challenges faced by unaccompanied children and guardians. The session will highlight best practices, foster exchange among Eurochild members, and facilitate the sharing of key learnings and materials. It aims to inspire collaboration and

	contribute to recommendations that strengthen child protection systems. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> From Children’s Voices to Action: Strengthening Trust in Child Protection Systems Led by Helen Saarnik & Anneli Valner; Co-host and Anna Tiili. Estonian Union for Child Welfare, Central Union for Child Welfare Estonia, Finland This workshop explores child participation as a strategic tool to strengthen trust, legitimacy, and responsiveness in child protection and social protection systems, particularly in contexts of mistrust and polarisation. Drawing on the CHIPS initiative across the Baltic region, it presents practical approaches for ethically collecting and translating children’s voices into actionable policy, using interactive case-based methods and a “Human Library” format to share real-world dilemmas and solutions. When Collaboration Gets Messy: Working Across Disciplines for Children’s Well-Being Led by Diederik van Iwaarden & Francesca Stuer Dynamics of Youth, Utrecht University and Maestral International Netherlands, Belgium This workshop explores what meaningful transdisciplinary collaboration looks like in practice when working to improve social protection systems for children and young people, acknowledging the real challenges of working across sectors, disciplines, and organisational cultures. It creates a reflective space for Eurochild members to share honest experiences, learn from difficulties as well as successes, and strengthen cross-sector relationships to improve collective impact for children’s wellbeing and resilience. Concurrent Planning: a way to deinstitutionalisation in early childhood Led by Jessica Manjón Asociación Estatal de Acogimiento Familiar (ASEAF) Spain This workshop presents the ESF+ pilot project “PSDP” (Concurrent/Parallel Planning) in Spain, which aims to address delays in permanency planning for children in care and reduce reliance on institutional care, particularly for children aged 0-6. It proposes a paradigm shift in child protection practice by working simultaneously with biological families and planning alternative family-based care options, in alignment with the European Child Guarantee, to ensure faster, more child-centred and permanent solutions. From Basic Needs to Holistic and Lasting Impact: Practical Pathways to Preventing Generational Poverty Led by Diana Yovcheva-Koparanova, Desislava Petkov, Bogomila Veleva, Zhaklina Andonova Concordia Austria, Concordia Bulgaria Foundation Austria, Bulgaria This workshop will be youth-led, grounded in a personal story – showing what prevention and early support can mean in real life. Through shared experience, participants will see how accessible and trust-based services along long-term and consistent support and work with the child, the family and the institutions, can lead to measurable outcomes such as improved well-being, stronger family stability, and sustainable connection to school and community.
